

I currently have no cable or satellite. Too costly for what I wanted and too many things I didn't want and refuse to pay for.

I would gladly get some channels if I could get just what I wanted, or at least much closer. Packages could be in tiers with channels all grouped by costs. Then people could pick a group and get a subscription for 5, 10, 20, etc channels, and then select the channels.

Channels with advertising should be forced to be free just like OTA television.
